Snookie's going to want to make a trip to Los Angeles: The Beach House Hotel Hermosa Beach is offering in-room spray tanning for guests. Only in Southern California.

Instead of baking on the sands of the beachfront hotel, you can tan the safe way. Of course, in keeping with SoCal ethics, the Hermosa Beach hotel's Beach Babe tan service is organic.

You aren't left to tan yourself; BeWell Spa professionals will come up to your room for the 45-minute treatment for the utmost privacy. To get as brown as Snooks, you can get the treatment through August for $99, a $50 savings.

If you want to partake in another SoCal ritual, the Beach House also offers yoga. But you'll do your downward dog on the sand here. Classes take place Saturdays at 8:30 a.m. and cost $15. The class runs from an hour to 75 minutes.

To get a room so you can get your faux tan and head to post-yoga workout, rates at the hotel start at $299 a night. [Photo: Beach House Hotel Hermosa Beach]
